SIR HENRY WILSON ASSASSINATED AT HOME IN LONDONFormer Chief of Imperial Staff
Shot and KilledTWO ASSISTANTS CAUGHT
Present Unionist Member of Parliament From North
Down, Ireland

London, June 22 (By the Associated Press)—Field Marshal Sir Henry Hughes Wilson was shot and killed outside his house on Eaton square, London, this afternoon. Two of his assassins were arrested.

Sir Henry was formerly chief of the imperial general staff of the British army. He retired from this post early during the present year and stood for election to the Imperial Parliament as Unionist candidate for North Down, Ireland.

He was elected from this district and soon afterwards was appointed by Premier James Craig as Ulster's agent for the restoration of order.

HORSELESS AGE NOT
YET IN EXISTENCEMore Than 511 Miles of Bridle Paths
Used in 13 American Cities.

Chicago, Ill., June 21.—In what has been termed a horseless age more than 511 miles of bridle paths are in use in thirteen of the leading American cities and their vicinity, according to figures of the Horse Association of America. Washington's trails are in the first rank in quality. Eight of the leading cities have forty-three riding schools. Horse shows are springing up in all parts of the country, especially in the neighborhood of summer resorts.

The Devon horse show held recently near Philadelphia has an attendance of 20,000 and the crowds even over ran the polo fields.

The Association says that bridle trails have been made through the Forest Preserves near Chicago. These preserves cover more than 23,000 acres; Boston's trails lead through the country and the forest reservations. There are seven riding schools in the city and seven more in the suburbs.

Every Sunday afternoon from 200 to 500 riders use the trails which cover more than seventy-five miles in Rock Creek Park, District of Columbia. Jumps in this park were laid out by President Roosevelt during his administration. Washington has eight miles of paths in Potomac Park and around the Speedway. Efforts are now being made to link Rock Creek Park to Potomac Park by a bridle trail along the Potomac river.

Six miles of bridle path in Central Park, New York, are heavily crowded on Saturday afternoon and Sunday, and it is said that riders using the two miles of paths in Riverside Drive are occasionally forced out on the asphalt by the motorists. Van Cortlandt Park has six miles of well corded out of New York into many miles of country roads suitable for horseback riding.

Brooklyn's bridle trails total thirty miles; Prospect Park is used by an average of 400 riders.

Motors are excluded from Wissahickon Park at Philadelphia, where there are twelve miles of bridle trails. There are eighteen miles of good riding in Fairmount Park at the same city, and numerous clubs near by maintain polo fields and steeple chase courses, the statement notes.

The riding census on San Francisco is reported as exceptionally large. There are four riding schools there, and six miles of paths in Golden Gate Park besides facilities in the way of mountain trails and beach riding. There are many routes suitable for horseback riding near Los Angeles.

Indianapolis, Minn., has 14 miles of bridle paths; Baltimore, Md., seven; Buffalo, N. Y., three or four; St. Paul, Minn., four; and St. Louis, Mo., fifteen or sixteen. Interest is developing in Detroit, Mich., where although there are no definite bridle paths, but where dirt and gravel roads somewhat avoided by motorists are available.

Plans are under way to develop a large riding club at Cleveland, O. A Buffalo Riding Club is building a clubhouse and showering, with stables for 100 horses; another Buffalo club already accommodates approximately 100 horses.

DOWN AND OUTERS
MORE CHARITABLE
STEWART CLAIMSUnfrocked Pastor Found Greater Hearts in UnderworldHELD ON BIGAMY CHARGE
Accused of Fleeing Four Wives
Out of Thousands of Dollars

Los Angeles, June 22.—Although credited with having eliminated segregated districts from his operations in several California cities, Rev. Donald D. Stewart, held in the county jail here facing charges of committing bigamy in four states and fleeing a quartet of wives out of thousands of dollars, declared yesterday that he found that men and women of the underworld have greater hearts and were more charitable to him than the members of his own church.

"I have gone down and down from the time that I was unfrocked in Oakland in 1914," Stewart said, "but men and women of the underworld were kinder and more charitable to me than members of the church whose worship I had led. Not one of my flock stood by me in my trouble."

Stewart denied the charges of bigamy which have been made against him. He also denied that Mrs. Ethel Turner Osbaldeston, taken into custody with him, and who, it was alleged, posed as his sister and arranged Stewart's marriages, was guilty of any wrong.

He is wanted on charges of bigamy in Boston, Indianapolis, New York and Detroit.

PUBLIC IS WARNED
Collectors Said to Be Asking For Money in This Section.

The following letter from Commander John Slater of the Salvation Army who is well known in Bennington warns the public against an apparent attempt to get money from the public under wrong pretense.

Editor of the Banner:—The people of South Londonderry and other towns inform us that four men claim to be collecting funds for the Salvation Army. Would you kindly warn the people that these men have no connection with the Salvation Army. They claim to be from Albany, N. Y. One goes under the name of Capt. J. J. Young, the other Lieut. J. T. Beck, the other two are young, about 20 years old, one of them is red headed. Warn the people of the surrounding towns to beware of them. The only two officers authorized to collect in Bennington County are Enns, E. R. Kunz and myself. We did the work in Bennington last year and when the time comes will do it again this year. I am enclosing our cards so you will know.

Thanking you for past favors.
Sincerely yours,
Com. John Slater.

LAFOLLETTE GIVES HIGH
COURT ANOTHER SLAMSays Decisions Have Nearly Destroyed
Scheme of Representative Government

Washington, June 22.—With all of his characteristic forensic force, Senator Robert M. LaFollette of Wisconsin attacked the United States supreme court in the Senate yesterday afternoon as having encroached upon the constitutional and legislative prerogatives of Congress, "until by many of its decisions, it has well nigh destroyed the scheme of representative government, the fathers of the republic intended to be preserved in its legislative branch."

LaFollette's attack was the climax of a debate on what constituted the fundamental principles of democratic government. Senator Edge, Republican, of New Jersey, and Kellogg, Republican of Minnesota, upheld the power of the supreme court to set aside any or all acts of Congress. Edge condemned LaFollette's suggestion that Congress be authorized to re-enact legislation held unconstitutional by the supreme court through a two-thirds vote in the manner followed in reconsidered measures vetoed by the president. Kellogg said such procedure would nullify the constitution.

LaFollette denounced Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, and Senators Edge and Kellogg for their criticisms of the speech he delivered recently before the American Federation of Labor convention at Cincinnati. He declared Butler to be "a bootlicker" to swollen wealth and the "handy man of privilege."

Beautiful Ceylon.
Drowning in the Indian ocean, and about three times as large as our state of New Jersey, lies the beautiful tropical island of Ceylon, an island of Asia, known as far back as the time of the ancient Greeks and Romans but conquered by Great Britain in 1796 and now one of her colonies, ruled by a governor chosen by the crown. Its name means "the island of Lions," but in its jungles today wild elephants live and roam at will.

WELFARE JUNE FROLIC

Community Entertainment at High School Next Wednesday.

The June frolic, which is to be held at High school hall next Wednesday is to be what its name implies, a community festival of fun, music, dancing, fortune telling, a pirates treasure chest, a beauty parlor, sales tables of Achievement club wares, refreshments and cold drinks constitute some of the attractive features. There will be a comedy act presented by local entertainers. Everywhere will be fun and frolic.

The Achievement clubs of the Welfare are largely responsible for this community frolic and are endeavoring to give something for the money they desire to earn to carry on their various projects.

The Welfare Association, which is sponsoring the Achievement clubs in this entertainment, will also hold a community food sale both afternoon and evening, at the high school hall. These sale booths will be outside the door for admission charges in the evening when the frolic will be from 7:30 till 11:00.

A 15 cent door charge will be made to all visitors. Other small admissions will be charged for entrance to each separate attraction. Dancing will occupy one portion of the floor which will make it possible for every one to pay only for the dances danced.

FENN-HALL

Bennington Girl Married to Louisiana
Young Man.

On Wednesday at 2:30 in the afternoon, Miss Vera Marguerite Hall, daughter of A. J. Hall of North Adams, and Harry C. Fenn of Alexandria, Louisiana, were united in marriage by the Rev. W. H. Bamford of Manchester, Vt., who is a relative of the bridegroom. The ceremony took place at the church and the only attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hewitt of Bennington, the latter being a sister of the bride.

The bride wore white georgette with picture hat to match and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley, while her attendant wore light colored organdie draped with georgette.

The bride is one of the most popular girls of Bennington and the community will lose an always willing helper in any worthy cause. She returned to Bennington three years ago, at the time of her sister's marriage, and during the entire period has been very active in church and social work. She has been untiring in her work for the Methodist church which she joined some time ago, having been president of the Epworth League for two years, a member of the choir and supervisor of recreation and social work of the church. She has a host of friends and acquaintances who will wish her every happiness.

The bridegroom who is a southern man is taking the electrical course at the New London Naval station. Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Fenn left for a trip to Boston and Springfield, and will be at home after July 1 at 17 Monument avenue, Groton, Connecticut.
